The 1966-67 Student Council of A. C. Jones High School

We Salute the Student Council

We, the 1966-67 Annual Staff, salute the Student Council of A. C. Jones High School. We feel that the Student Council has done an outstanding job this year and should be recognized as one of the most outstanding Councils A. C. Jones has ever had.

The Council worked hard on each project and activity which they sponsored this year. The projects included assisting in the annual Christmas Welfare Drive, sponsoring a Christmas get-together during the Christmas holidays, and sponsoring the Vietnam Soap Drive in which 1444 bars of soap and assorted clothing were collected for the Vietnamese refugees.

The Student Council's most outstanding accomplishment this year was being elected to the office of Vice President of the Texas Association of Student Councils. This is the first time an A. C. Jones Student Council has held an office on the state level. The entire Council worked hard to achieve this honor.

This year's Council should be highly commended for its diligent work and for the honor it achieved for A. C. Jones High School.

Mr. George Elam, Sponsor.

Man is to the world as the student is to A. C. Jones High School. For four years A. C. Jones High School is, in a sense, the world of the high school student. Most of his activities during those four years are in some way connected with A. C. Jones. The 1967 TROJAN has attempted to capture this world as it relates us to our high school. To us, this is THE WORLD OF A. C. JONES.

Organized in January, 1932, the Beeville FFA Chapter has emphasized the integral part of the Vocational Agriculture program keeping in mind the Primary Aim of the FFA "The Development of Agricultural Leadership, Scholarship and Citizenship."

Vocational agriculture students study the techniques and science of agricultural production; receive training in marketing and other phases of farm management. Soil conservation and improvement is studied. Considerable emphasis is given to farm mechanics training involving the selection, care, maintenance, and operation of modern farm machinery. Instruction also is provided in the construction and maintenance of farm buildings, fences and other equipment.

Vocational agriculture students frequently go on field trips to neighboring farms to observe good practices of farming and farm management; to agricultural experiment stations where they may see the results of new methods, and to other places where they may gain new knowledge through observation and experience.
